

The bank is closed today... there's no one at the city hall... state employees have the day off... it's a holiday. One hundred years ago today a bunch of Americans at Sonoma first raised the Bear Flag... The Californians (Mexicans) just put up a token resistance... The Osos (Bears) were in... Looking over the present situation in the state, traffic, all of the odd cults and so on, I think the Californians made a mistake in not putting up a fight... Today is also Flag Day. On June 14, 1777, 169 years ago, the first American flag was produced... But in Palm Springs, the way men wear their shirts, every day is flag day. (That's a kid joke, that is.)

AROUND TOWN—Speaking of Flag Day, reminds me. Harry Oliver, who keeps things exciting in dull times, is promoting a new county. He wants all of the desert area grouped in one political subdivision. He even has an idea for a flag for the new county. In fact, he sent me a colored sketch of the new flag. It shows a cactus in green on a white field with the letters "Desert County" in sand color... Seems to me, he missed a good bet... The old Revolutionary Rattlesnake flag had the warning: "Don't Tread on Me." Harry should copy this idea and on his cactus flag, put the inscription: "Don't Sit on Me."

PERSONAL—Around The Sun office these days I'm as popular as a wood pussy at a picnic. Week from tomorrow I take off for Kansas City, Chicago, Milwaukee, Iowa and way points. Starting last Monday I began counting days—"14 days more, 13 days more and so on." This morning when I said "eight days and 11 hours and I'm on my way," Mrs. Bill Thurman, front office manager, heaved the dictionary at me. But missed... Anyway, I've had all kinds of advice about that trip... "You should fly," say some. "Why not drive?" say others... Not for me... I'm going to ride the friendly S.P. and relax.

EXPRESSIONS—Leave it to musicians to have the word for it... The youngest pride and joy, currently playing in Hollywood, recently received a call to join a name-band in Chicago. They offered to fly him back but he held out for train transportation. Mrs. G said: "Bob, why didn't you fly?" He said: "Mom, during the war when we played army camps each day, I flew practically into every state in the union. This time, I want to get on a train and just 'goof off' for 48 hours." That seemed like such a good expression, I asked him what it meant... He said that in musicians' parlance, 'goof off' meant that you have a thousand things to do but don't do any of them—just relax... That's for me. I'm going to 'goof off' for two weeks.

MUSIC—Well, the "Gypsy" is still there and right at its heels is "Laughing on the Outside" just as the old man said... Mrs. G is pointing with pride to the fact that her pick, "Sioux City Sue," is now fourth and moving up... And I would respectfully submit that every number mentioned On This Side of The Sun last week, was in the Hit Parade last Saturday night... Does anybody want a good coverage on a musical program? I really need a sponsor... This week I got three more requests from neighbors for special numbers on my nightly record program.

THE VILLAGE—Everyone has to be serious once in a while. This is my turn... Was looking over the city business license ordinance this week and it seems to me it's based on the wrong premise. It charges per number of employees. In other words, a firm hiring a lot of help but making only a small margin, pays lots more than a guy, say, working for himself and reaping a large monetary harvest... Why not tax 'em on income like Uncle Sam does? Base it on the ability to pay, that is... Still in a serious vein, there's something else that puzzles me. Jack Russell is back at the piano at the Lido. His nickname is "Curly". Looked him over last night and if there's a curl on the top of his head, or anything that's a reasonable facsimile of a curl, then I'm the queen of May... But he can play—and good.

AROUND TOWN—Ruth Jones and Esther Goldberg at the La Siesta are playing host to a lot of Big Names even if it is June... This week it was Lana Turner... Also here this week was Howard Hughes, noted aviation figure... And in spite of the fact that the temperature figures have been in three numbers for the past ten days, the Village is still doing the 21st annual California Newspaper advertising managers' association 3-day convention at the Elks club. More than 300 California newspaper advertising managers, staff members, publishers and advertising agency executives were present for the sessions.

Walter W. Marto, president of the association, predicted that the 1946 session, in point of attendance, character of talks, and round table discussions of problems, would surpass any previous convention of the group.

Leading figures in the advertising world, advertisers, advertising agency leaders and newspaper advertising heads, will fill the interesting and active program.

City Traffic Code to Be Modernized

Complete Revision
To Meet Needs of
Today Under Study

City council at its meeting will hear a comprehensive report from the public safety committee on revision of the present city traffic code. The committee has been making an exhaustive study of the local situation and by the next meeting of the council, plans to have its report complete in detail. On the committee are Charles Farrell, chairman; John Archibald and Armand Turonnet.

The study includes curb markings, safety zones, cross walks and other parking spots. The main project is to provide more parking places and to increase safety provisions.

PROMOTE SAFETY
In the latter category are cross walks, school crossings and replacement of present boulevard stop signs with reflector signs so that they can be seen at night.

A study of curb markings for green 15-minute zones, white loading zones, red no-parking zones, bus loading zones, taxi-cab stands, and so on, is also being made. The committee plans to bring the parking situation down to date to coordinate the traffic code with the growth of the city since the ordinance was first adopted.

MORE PARKING
To bring the measure up to date, the committee has made a survey of former driveways, marked no parking, which have been abandoned in the past few years. There are several on Palm Canyon drive in this class.

Study of intersections where U-turns are a hazard, study of the parking time limits, now one hour in some blocks, two hours in others, over-night street parking, theater parking, the situation on Indian avenue where there are no sidewalks or curbs along the major portion of the street, are included in the committee's activities.

ESTABLISH LINES
J. F. Davidson, city engineer, this week brought out maps and surveys to establish the center line of Palm Canyon drive and Indian avenue as well as other streets in town.

These findings will determine the proposed establishment of a four-lane highway on Palm Canyon drive and lanes on Indian avenue. These center lines will also enable future construction projects to establish legal setback lines, provide the proper place for gutters, curbs and sidewalks. The Indian avenue study will go from Alejo to Ramon road.

SAFETY FIRST
City Manager William E. Alworth said that the safety committee's work would go far to improve the local traffic situation. He said it would alleviate the present parking situation and enhance traffic safety in the Village.

Asked whether the committee had anything in mind to regulate 'jay-walking', he held up his hands in horror. "We won't talk about that now," he said.

Mrs. Miller Leaves For St. Louis Home
Mrs. Grace Lewis Miller, well known Palm Springs winter resident, left this week for her summer home in St. Louis, Mo.

She plans to be back in Palm Springs for the coming season.

Convention
Grant Wood Goes To Represent Sun

Grant Wood, advertising manager of The Desert Sun, was today in Los Angeles, in attendance at the 21st annual California Newspaper advertising managers' association 3-day convention at the Elks club. More than 300 California newspaper advertising managers, staff members, publishers and advertising agency executives were present for the sessions.

Walter W. Marto, president of the association, predicted that the 1946 session, in point of attendance, character of talks, and round table discussions of problems, would surpass any previous convention of the group.

Leading figures in the advertising world, advertisers, advertising agency leaders and newspaper advertising heads, will fill the interesting and active program.

GUIDE—Jim Maynard, who practically knows every rock on the mountains back of Palm Springs, has been engaged as guide for surveying parties locating the site of the Mount San Jacinto tramway. (Gayle Studio photo.)

Maynard to Guide Tram Surveyors

Jim Maynard, local policeman, resident of Palm Springs for the past 23 years except for time off to be with the U.S. Navy, has been retained by the Mt. San Jacinto Winter Park authority as guide for the surveying party which will plot the course of the giant project up Chino canyon.

Maynard, member of the local police force, knows the mountains back of Palm Springs—he can practically call every rock on the mountain side by its first name.

23 YEARS OF IT
Away back in 1923 when he was going to the local schools, Jim used to get in trouble with the truant officer because he had a yen for the mountains. He played hookey frequently to explore the canyons and the ridges back of the Village. As a result, he knows every nook and cranny of the rugged hills.

He is head of the Palm Springs rescue squad, formed in 1938 and since that time has guided posers into the mountains to bring out lost parties. He has rescued all.

Watch Deal Puts Him Out of Town

Willie King, 26, colored, will be a guest of the county for ten days and after that will say good bye to Palm Springs or be interned for 30 days more.

He faced Judge E. E. Theriault in city court yesterday on a petty theft charge, sworn to by Eddie Matthews, who said King stole his watch, which he had bought in Mexico.

Judge Theriault imposed a 40-day sentence but suspended 30 days on condition King leave town.

City Expects To Gain Sewage Plant

An application, prepared by the city, went forward this week to the Army Engineers, Los Angeles, seeking the immediate use of the sewage disposal plant constructed by the military here. William E. Alworth, city manager, does not expect any delay on the part of army authorities in granting the city the use of the sewage system. An answer is expected within ten days to two weeks.

Karolyne Dee Leaves For Vacation Jaunt

Karolyne Dee, masseuse at the Indian Mineral Baths, Indian avenue, left this week for the east. She plans to visit in Atlantic City and in Dayton, Ohio, while on her vacation trip.

Lots of Beef But It's All On the Hoof

Local Market Men Explain Why Juicy Steaks Hard To Get

There's plenty of beef available, steaks, chops, roasts and sundry other juicy tidbits—but it's not for sale!

As a matter of fact, all of this potential meat is still grazing in lush meadows and, according to local butchers, Palm Springs housewives are going to have to wait until OPA, ceiling prices, the high cost of feed and a lot of other contributing factors are erased before they can get that thick luscious looking steak down in front of their husbands.

CITE REMEDY
All operators of meat "dispensaries" in town are of the opinion that the situation will not be eased until higher ceiling prices are allowed or, all OPA stands for in controls, is completely eliminated.

At the same time, all reported that there is meat of a kind for sale at all times in their shops. Most of the time however, it's chicken, fish, cold cuts, and a little lamb or mutton.

Unlike housewives in Los Angeles and other metropolitan centers throughout the United States, those who do their shopping in Palm Springs are taking the meat shortage in good grace. None of the butchers reported tirades loosened at their heads by irate women who could not get the meat they want.

BLAMES CONTROLS
Elmo Purnell, behind the meat counter at Hatchett's Market, is of the opinion that OPA and ceiling prices should be abolished on meat. He said that his show cases always have fish, chicken and cold cuts for sale and a little beef.

"If OPA loosened its control there would be more beef," declared Purnell. "There's more beef on the hoof now than ever existed in this country at one time. Cattlemen have told me that they will not bring their beeves to market because of ceiling prices," Purnell continued. He added that these cattlemen will hold their steers as long as they can under existing price schedules. The stocks in his shop fluctuate sharply from day to day.

NOT SO DISMAL
Mac Clung, in charge of the meat department at Safeway, had no panacea to offer that would alleviate the meat situation here. However, the company he works for owns several meat packing plants and the picture with the various Safeway stores throughout this area is not quite as dismal as the one which confronts independents.

Just the same, McClung declared that the meat he does get doesn't even begin to meet the demands of his regular patrons. "People are nice about the situation," said McClung. So far none of us working behind the meat counter have been on the receiving end of 'hot' words from our customers."

WANTS OPA OFF
John DeVine, owner-manager of DeVine's Market, had plenty to say about the situation.

FOLLOW PRECEDENT
Such is the learned opinion of those who ought to know, that is, the cost of a round trip passage on the San Jacinto Winter Park Tramway, and not how expert you are in molding snow men.

Earl Coffman, president of the San Jacinto Winter Park Authority, said there was every likelihood that the passage fare would follow the precedent established in the operation of tramways in Europe. Over there, Coffman said, the charge is equal to 25 cents per 1,000 feet of cable length the tramway cars travel. The San Jacinto passenger cars will travel 12,000 cable feet to the 8,500 foot level. At 25 cents, the cost would be around $4 per round trip and although Coffman didn't say that would be the charge here, he intimated that that fare might be too high.

AT POPULAR LEVEL
"We certainly do not want to keep the people from using the tramway because of the cost," (Please Turn to Page Eight)

City Seeks Pool For Summer Use

Where to swim — and when, will be answered soon, according to City Manager William E. Alworth.

An application by the city for use of the magnificent pool on the Torney General Hospital grounds is in the hands of the Public Buildings Administration, division of the Federal Works Agency, in San Francisco and a reply is expected soon.

In the meantime, the city will hold in abeyance other offers of pools pending action by the federal agency.

City Manager Alworth said there will be a municipal pool in operation here this summer. "But," he said, "we would like to have one of the pools used by the army when they were thick here. We don't want to impose on the generosity of Frank W. Cutler, who for three years has allowed the city to use his private pool in summer time. He has been more than generous and we don't want to take advantage of that."

Torney Deal All Bound Up In Red Tape

Imperturbable William E. Alworth, city manager, was in receipt of a letter from Washington, D. C., this week that caused him no little amount of perturbation. In other words he was indignant, mad, and he showed it every time he picked up and read the missive.

It all had to do with the city's application for the acquisition of all of the Torney General Hospital and the return of former city streets to Palm Springs fenced and blocked from public use by the government during the war years. He was particularly incensed over the paragraph in the letter regarding the streets. As far as the city's application for the hospital property is concerned, no decision on the part of War Assets has yet been made.

ASK FOR MORE
The letter also asked for additional information regarding the use the city will make of the Torney property if the application is favorably acted upon.

The paragraph to which Alworth took exception read that the city of Palm Springs could not recover public streets where the property has been classified as commercial real property by the War Assets Corporation. However, a new issue was injected into this ruling and it dealt with whether the city decided the streets in question to the government or just permitted the use of them during time the hospital was being used by the army.

WANT IT RE-OPENED
Right now the most important artery which has caused resistance is the one which runs from the city to the hospital.

Police Seeking Husky Thieves

Husky thieves were in action in the Village this week, according to John Barone, contractor. They stole 500 tiles and 15 bags of cement from a construction job on Tamarisk road, he reported to police Tuesday.

Phenomenal Growth Seen For Village

Palm Springs Looms As Hub of Vast Desert Activity

Its progress slowed up by more than four years of war, Palm Springs, nationally known as the finest winter resort in North America, is rapidly throwing off its swaddling clothes as a sleepy village, so known before the war, to become the hub of the desert with an orbit-radius of nearly fifty miles. All signs, concrete ones, point the direction the town will take in giant steps of seven league boots.

A picture of what the future portends for this desert oasis during the first six months of this year was seen when it reached third place in building permits in California for a total of more than $6,000,000 in planned buildings which include everything from a single family dwelling to luxurious hotels. Inside the city limits there are at least a dozen subdivisions. Within 18 miles of the southern boundaries of Palm Springs there is an equal number of giant real estate developments whose promoters consider Palm Springs the hub of their activities. Even La Quinta, swanky cottage-hotel much closer to Indio than to Palm Springs, looks toward this community with 90 per cent of its guests doing their shopping here and enjoying night life in night clubs and restaurants. The manager of the hotel is a member of the chamber of commerce here.

HUB OF ACTIVITY
Rancho Mirage, one of the large desert developments, has enjoyed a phenomenal sales record as has Palm Village, with two other mammoth developments in the process of preparing their tracts and expected to be operating by September 15.

All of this activity is reflected in the future plans of the public utilities that serve the area with headquarters in Palm Springs. Bill Nash, supervisor of the telephone company, announced that his concern is planning a two-story addition to present facilities. Just as soon as equipment is available it is planned to install 4,000 more telephone "stations" which will take care of approximately 7,000 new phone subscribers. An automatic telephone substation is also in the plans for Cathedral City, six miles to the east.

Cathedral City itself is in the agony of growing pains. Unincorporated, it, too, does most of its commerce with the merchants of Palm Springs. Desert Hot Springs, just a hop, skip and a jump to the northeast, is also growing by leaps and bounds, as is 29 Palms, just a little way across the desert. Another community which has just appealed to the telephone company in Palm Springs for service, is Joshua Tree.

Secession Rears Its Head in County

Secession has reared its ugly head in the desert! And Riverside, San Bernardino, Imperial and San Diego counties may be the victims. Out of the throes of battle may be born a new county—Desert County.

No fooling. Petitions are being readied for circulation and the native daughters of Mecca, in the rolls of many Betsy Ross's, are making a flag for the new county. It will show a cactus on a white field and the words "Desert County" in sand color.

Unlike the Rattlesnake flag it will not say: "Don't Sit on Me!" under the cactus.

We, the People, Do Ordain

By ETHEL GILLET WHITEHORN

The Preamble of the Constitution reads: "We, the People of the United States in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

Seven brief articles outlining our form of government follow the Preamble, and thus was given to us to hold and to cherish for all time, America's most sacred document.

FOR 145 YEARS

The Constitution was signed by 39 men on September 17, 1787. The first signature was that of George Washington, President of the United States and deputy of Virginia. Among the other great men who signed the document were Benjamin Franklin, Alexander Hamilton, James Madison, and Roger Sherman.

For 145 years the American people have been devoted to the Constitution of the United States. They could trust their honest and worthy leaders—men like Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Jackson, Monroe, Lincoln, Cleveland, McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt.

BUT NOW—IN 1946

But now, in this year of 1946, the situation is far different. Trust, on the part of the American people, has given way to distrust, doubt and suspicion of those leaders who for 13 long years have attempted to sidetrack the Constitution of the United States.

Today, the people are asking—"Where is domestic tranquility?" They can find the answer themselves because they know that in the 10 months since V-J Day, nothing approaching domestic tranquility has been permitted to play the part in the American way of life. Directives by men instead of government by law, and confusion and bungling by bureaucrats not recognized by the Constitution; strikes and more strikes instigated by communistic leaders whose distorted thinking is not recognized by the Constitution; political opportunists who think only of their own selfish gains—these and many more obstacles planted in the path of a once progressive America have made of 1946, the lost year.

WHERE ARE THEY?

The general Welfare and the Blessings of Liberty! Where are they? Gone with the wind, and they never will return until the wind changes and with the force of a tornado destroys C.I.O.—New Deal regimentation, regulations and directives.

The American people are aroused today as they never were aroused in all the years since the Constitution was given to us. It was their voice that ended the crippling railroad strike. President Truman, at long last, heard that voice, and acted.

We, the people of 1946, have bestirred ourselves. We are no longer Rip Van Winkles. We do ordain that to OUR posterity shall be given the same blessings as were given to us by our forefathers.

I am sure that you are convinced, as I am, that nothing is more important for the world, as well as for the two nations themselves, than that the United States and the Soviet Union should maintain a firm basis of understanding—Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, ambassador to Moscow.

Learning the Hard Way

An entire community—hotel, store, garage, homes—was destroyed by fire recently in the state of Washington. In ten minutes thousands of dollars worth of property and a town were wiped off the map. Thirty families were stranded. Fortunately, no lives were lost.

In this case the fire may have been unavoidable. It was thought that a chimney spark on a dry roof started the conflagration. However, the citizens of this town should not forget the lesson they have learned. When they build again, and that will be no easy job in these days of shortages and high costs, they will undoubtedly give serious thought to the elimination of fire hazards. It is a good bet that hereafter they will make certain that their fire fighting equipment is in good order. If they have any luck at all, the nation's number one property destroyer will find slim pickings in their region for a long time to come.

Thousands of other communities could profit by the experience of this little Washington town. It learned its lesson the hard way. Others can learn the easy way, profiting by experience. They should follow the advice of fire prevention experts with greater diligence. They can revise obsolete ordinances, check the adequacy of water supply, encourage individual awareness of the danger of fire. They can go far toward eliminating a half-billion dollar fire loss each year.

Anyway, there is one community in Washington that should hereafter be a good citizen from the standpoint of practicing fire prevention.

SPOTS

Before Your Eyes
By BILL RASHALL

Among other things my editor should do to this column would be to change the word "Spots" to singular "Spot". Originally the word meant to encompass 11 places in town I visited during the season. Now there are only three—and they're doing a good business, too.

Friends of Charley Butterworth here were shocked to hear of his death. Less than two weeks ago he was in Palm Springs making the "Spots" and the last place he visited before returning to Los Angeles was the Dunes. Genial, well liked and easy to talk to, he made a host of good friends in Palm Springs. He'll be missed.

HE KNOWS 'EM

Jack Russel, pianist who has been playing a return engagement at the Lido, always brings a host of memories to mind. An old timer at the game, he can play the old tunes with the familiarity of one who played the songs when first published. He traveled the old Orpheum and Keith vaudeville circuits, pounding the ivories.

Ernie Baron will be back at the Lido tonight, for a three-night stand. This will be his fourth time at that "Spot". He has never failed to draw a crowd.

The biggest little restaurant in town is still open and will continue to do business all summer—the "Dog House".

Tony Burke at the Dunes talking about his planned trip to the old country. He intends to visit Wembleton, England, where his relatives still reside. He will also take a jaunt to Paris before returning to this country. The real estate business in Palm Springs has been good to him, he said.

GOSSIP ON THE DRIVE

Although there has been no official word forthcoming from the parties involved, it is reported upon and down Palm Canyon drive that George Strebe will be or is now, the owner of the Doll House. One report has it that more than $100,000 figured in the transaction which includes the land as well.

The Latin Quarter has also been reported sold. San Francisco and Los Angeles people are reported to be the new owners. They plan to make the place over into a swanky hotel with swimming pool and everything.

Ever since the Sky Room atop the Mark Hopkins in San Francisco gained so much fame, cocktail lounges here and there across the United States, located in pent houses, have been named. In Southern California, to my knowledge, there is one in Long Beach and another in Hollywood. Palm Springs is going to have one too. Not at liberty to reveal the name of the future owner, the plans call for a super deluxe hotel and a "Sky Room" on top of it. A famous architect has been retained to draw the plans and no expense will be spared in making the lounge, dining room and dance floor, all a part of the "Sky Room" to be the most beautiful in Palm Springs.

SPOT SIGN OUT

Harry Peale, who manages the Snack Room at the Royal Palms Hotel, is now the manager of a dining room. The Rolly Room ordered closed as a cocktail lounge is now the locale where delicious food is served. The place "played" to standing room only last week-end.

Irene Foldes of the Palm Springs Hotel family was having a swell time at the Dunes with a group of friends last night. Mrs. John Archibald really arrests the eye! Plenty of appeal and beauty there, if you'll pardon my saying so, Councilman Archibald.

Fred Ingram, the banker, his pretty wife, Ted Reed, the radio man, and an unidentified couple, deeply engrossed in conversation at the Dunes last night. At the same place the night before, was John Harris, owner of the ice-cream, and his stellar skating attraction, Donna Atwood. With them was Dench and Atwood,

Major Rittenberry In Charge at Port

Major Elgin Rittenberry is the new commanding officer of the local Army Air Base, succeeding Lt. Colonel Charles McGarrigle, who has been transferred to the 6th Ferrying Group, Long Beach. The military installation here is under control of the commanding officer at Long Beach and is in the process of being abandoned by the army. Major Rittenberry will remain, it is said, until the War Assets Corporation takes over the field property for disposition.

Major John T. Burke, who has been acting as Colonel McGarrigle's executive officer, has also been ordered to Long Beach.

and Larry Jackson, members of the show. The whole group came down to visit Eleanor Meister, whose mother works at the Dunes. Eleanor also skitters across the ice for a living and she will join the show June 27.

GOING PLACES

Rube Miller, one of the old-timers here, will witness the Louis-Conn fight at Yankee Stadium, New York City, next Wednesday. Later he will travel to Virginia for a visit to his old home town of Petersburg. While there, Ruby of the Dunes will pick him up in his automobile for a trip to Miami, Fla.

The two will spend about ten days at the southern beach resort where Ruby will see for the first time, his twin grandsons, now six months old. He is also the grandfather of a grand-daughter, four years old. From Florida, the automobile will board a ship with the two Palm Springs travelers for a water trip to New Orleans and then home.

Don Manchester, former owner of the Doll House here, telling Connie right to her face that she is beautiful.

Most of the spots may be closed but Mills is about to open one where Orange Gene will be dispersed.

The Waffle Shop plans to stay open nearly all summer. Understand it may only close a short time for alterations.

ALWAYS OPEN

A "Spot" that keeps open 24 hours a day and doesn't have to pay a city license to do so, August Kettmann's "cooler"—the police station.

Johnny of the Pago Pago helping his workmen construct the large addition for next season's expected rush of business.

Harry Harper, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who got the chills of all of last season every time he opened a letter. Most of them from out-of-town-ers asking his assistance in obtaining hotel or apartment house accommodations. 99 times out of a hundred he was forced to reply "no accommodations." Yesterday he showed me a pile of letters just received from New York, Detroit, Chicago and other parts of the country, asking about reservations for next season. "Looks like it's going to be twice as bad as last year to obtain accommodations in Palm Springs," he opined.

Father McGann, pastor of Our Lady of Solitude, hopes the cooler at the Catholic church will really be in this coming Sunlay. Even a house of worship has had to wait because of material and labor shortages.

With all the blasting that has been going on in the expansion program of the Palm Springs Tennis Club, Lee Bering's promise that it will be THE show place of Palm Springs when construction is finished, may really come true.

Lots of luck to the new corporation Fulton's Inc. announced this week.

A constantly rising spiral of wages and prices means the ruin of everyone on fixed income and is not the correct solution to the problem.—Samuel B. Pettengill, former representative from Indiana.

Good old friendship too often is severed just by a cutting remark.

MORE ABOUT . . .

City Growth . . .

Power company, Crocker said his company is preparing for this astounding growth in the only way in which it counts—the investment of hard cash in additional equipment. The California Power company serves everything south of Banning to Point Happy, 18 miles to the South of Palm Springs.

It was Frances Crocker who first dreamed of an aerial tramway that would carry people from the floor of the desert to the top of 10,803 foot high Mt. San Jacinto. His dream is taking form now. Engineering crews of the Morrison-Knudsen company are right now in Chino canyon, the lower terminus of the tramway site, staking locations where the giant steel towers will rise to carry the tramway cars. When completed, within 18 months, the San Jacinto Winter Park Tramway will be the longest, highest, and the biggest passenger carrying tramway in the world. Two million dollars will be expended in its construction.

BUSY SUMMER

Already the increased activity in and around Palm Springs is being forcibly felt despite summer when previously Palm Springs took on the appearance of a ghost town. The town is swarming with workmen and their families. It is almost as hard to get a place in which to live now as it was during the winter. Those hotels which chose to stay open during the hot dry months are filled to capacity. People are standing in line at restaurants for a place to sit down and be waited upon.

Old timers show their amazement at the sight of so many persons on the streets at this time of year.

On all sides these "pioneers"; most of whom have not lived here more than 10 to 12 years, exclaim that the "Village is no longer a village." Many of them favor this growth but some are nostalgically sorry to see the transition taking place before their very eyes.

SWAMP UTILITIES

Bob Hargis, manager of the Southern California Gas company, recently appealed to new home owners to place their applications for gas service with his office about two or three weeks before they move in. His company here is literally swamped with work and his desk is piled high with applications, for extension of gas mains to new subdivisions. This gas company is participating in the construction of a $70,000,000 natural gas line from El Paso, Texas, to Southern California.

As to what Palm Springs will look like during the coming season when tourists from all over the country will literally swarm into the city, some hotels here have reported to the chamber of commerce that reservations already on hand will keep them filled from the day they open again in September or October until the end of the winter season in June 1947.

DEMAND IS ON

Harry Harper, executive secretary of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce, whose office is besieged eight months out of the year with telegrams, long distance telephone calls and special delivery letters, asking where the writer can find accommodations had the following to say about next season:

"Despite the great increase in the number of hotel and apartment house accommodations either completed or under construction here, Palm Springs again, during the coming season will be unable to meet the demand for "sun country" reservations.

"Already the mail is filled with requests for reservations for next season. Some even are seeking accommodations during the summer months. Many of the inquiries show that the would-be guests who have written from all parts of the United States and Canada wish to spend the greater part of the year here."

PHOTO HEADQUARTERS
DESERT CAMERA SHOP
288 N. Palm Canyon Dr.

ALL TIME HIGH

Harper added that the chamber of commerce is mapping an active program for community betterment, working in close harmony with the city government of Palm Springs. He said that the membership in that organization is now near the 500 mark, an all-time high with both business and home-owner residents comprising the list.

Since the town "closed" Harper reported, hotels that have remained open announced capacity patronage and during the weekends it is almost impossible to find accommodations.

Another barometer of the town's growth since the war ended and the number of people still in Palm Springs and likely to remain, is the circulation of the Desert Sun. The circulation department reported that newspaper distribution is at an all-time high for this time of year. It is more than double that shown for the same period last year. Within three days after distribution to news-stands, a copy of the paper cannot be found.

Villager Held for Morals Charge Trial

Edward Hassett, 60, was bound over for trial in superior court on a morals charge after hearing before Judge E. E. Theriault in local court yesterday.

Attorney Joe Seymour of Riverside represented Hassett and the district attorney's office was in charge for the state.

If ever Europe is going to be redeemed, if there ever is to be a Europe, it will be thanks to two things the first League of Nations lacked—the co-operation of the United States of America and the co-operation of the women of all the United States.—Denise van Moppes Butler, French Press and Information Service.

She'll Fly

Villager's Kin, Aged
90, Plans Flight Here

Mr. and Mrs. Chester (Slim) Moorten and their three-year-old son, Clark, have just returned from a trip to Oregon and Washington which included a visit at the home of their great-grandmother at Puyallup, Washington. Mrs. Hattie Gould, the grand-mother, will celebrate her 90th birthday next year and has promised to visit her grandchildren in Palm Springs, traveling via one of those "flying machines."

A son was born to Mrs. Harold Tonne, wife of Harold Tonne, 610 North Palm Canyon drive, at Riverside Community hospital on June 6.

This fine motoring weather should convince drivers that pedestrians should be seen and not hurt.

Phillips Barely Misses Re-Election at June 4 Primary

Congressman John Phillips of Banning will have opposition in the general election in November. While he captured the Republican nomination by a landslide, he was unable to overcome the heavy vote on the Democratic ticket given to Ray Adkinson in Orange county, the latter's home county.

On the Republican ticket, the vote was as follows: In Riverside county, Phillips 10,626; Adkinson, 1401. Orange County, Phillips, 13,601; Adkinson, 4,139. Imperial county, Phillips, 2,194; Adkinson, 174. Phillips total vote on the Republican ticket was 26,421 to Adkinson's 5,714.

Phillips was ahead of Adkinson for the Democratic nomination for congress in both Riverside and Imperial counties. The vote in Riverside county was Phillips, 4,858, and Adkinson, 4,258; in Imperial county, Phillips, 1465, Adkinson 1083. In Orange county, Phillips polled 5,703 votes on the Democratic ticket to 7,203 for Adkinson. Adkinson's total on the Democratic ticket was 12,544 to Phillips' 12,026.

Approval Given Construction of Natural Gas Line

Construction of the $70,000,000 pipeline carrying natural gas from Texas oil fields to Southern California, will find construction crews laying the line right through San Geronio pass sometime before June 1947.

The 1,200 mile pipeline is designed to meet a developing shortage in local natural gas supply for 3,500,000 persons in Southern California, the federal power commissioner who granted the construction permit said.

Companies involved in the construction of the mammoth pipeline are the El Paso Natural Gas company, Southern California Gas company, and the Southern California Counties Gas company. The El Paso company will deliver 125,000,000 cubic feet daily the first year the line is in operation which will be picked up by the two California concerns at the Arizona-California border. Eventually the amount of gas "shipped" will be stepped up to 305,000,000 cubic feet daily.

Firearms Brought Back By Veterans Must Be Registered

Returning servicemen who have brought certain types of firearms home with them or have sent them home are required to register their war trophies, and are subject to heavy penalties for failure to do so.

Section 2733 of the National Firearms act defines firearms affected by the act as follows: Any machine gun (a weapon designed to shoot more than one shot by a single pull of the trigger); A shotgun or rifle having a barrel less than 18 inches long. (This act does not require the registration of a .22 caliber rifle unless the barrel is less than 16 inches long); A muffer or silencer for any firearm; Any weapon, except a pistol or revolver, that is capable of being concealed on the person.

A penalty of not more than $2,000 fine and imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, is provided for failure to comply with provisions of the act.

Palm Springs Now Style Center for Men's Wear Throughout World—Village Getting World Wide Fashion Publicity

There may be considerable debate between New York city and Hollywood as to which is the style center of women's fashions, but Palm Springs, California, may now be the undisputed center of men's fashions in the nation.

Right now there are two well known establishments catering to the needs of men in Palm Springs whose individual opinions of what a man should wear as Western garb and sports wear have received both national and international recognition.

COME FROM FAR

Fred Fulton's Men's Wear store located on Palm Canyon Drive, personal creator of what the best man should wear at a winter resort, has had inquiries from as far away as South Africa and London, England, asking that proverbial question: "To what do you contribute your success?"

Wall Spalding, operator of Spalding's Western Store, has been asked for samples of his shirts on "what the best-dressed dude-cowboy should wear" by none other than the million dollar internationally famous Mcgregors men's sports wear manufacturers. The cut, trim, and styling of Spalding's Western shirts are the creation of his own shop.

PAY OFF—BUT GOOD

Fred Fulton, too, had ideas, apparently good ones, on what the best dressed resorter should wear in so famous a place as Palm Spring. His ideas have paid off—but good.

Recently, he was in receipt of a letter from J. Robert Breen, American editor for "The Outfitter", English magazine, and "The Buyer" of South Africa, seeking material for a story to be published in both of those magazines. He wanted to know all about Fulton's store here, the type of clothes he has for sale and pictures of his establishment.

WORLD PUBLICITY

This request followed the appearance of a feature story with pictures, which appeared in the January 11, 1946, issue of "Men's Wear", a magazine telling about the popularity of Fulton's store by men of discriminating taste. Also, the 1945 fall edition of "California Men's Stylist", a class magazine of the men's wear trade, carried a full spread with pictures featuring Fulton's of Palm Springs. As a result of this publicity a nationally famous "slick" paper magazine is planning to do a story on Fulton's this coming fall.

Fulton never felt he had gambled in opening his store here just about two years ago. The appearance of his shop is unique. He transformed a cottage on Palm Canyon Drive, retained the fence about the premises and hung out his "shingle". In appearance it was more like a man's outfitter as such a store is called in provincial England.

NEW DEPARTMENT

Last season he opened another department adjoining his men's furnishing establishment showing women's wear. This shop too, has received wide recognition already.

But the story of his success rings with the romance of business. London, England is known for its men's fashions as Paris

Only Three Spots Where Thirst Can Be Slaked in Town

The state board of equalization really meant it.

Padlocked doors on lounges in town where the SBE said "no sale" left only three spots open this week where a man (or woman) with a thirst could do something about it.

The Lido, The Dunes, and the Chi Chi were open and doing a thriving business—the rest of the spots were dark.

NO CHANGE

Last week, in communication via long distance with the state board offices at Sacramento, it was learned by The Desert Sun that there was only a slight chance of a change in the situation. It became apparent this week that the closing order will remain in effect until at least September 1.

The lounges affected by the ruling include the Zanzibar, Amado, Pago Pago, the Rolly Room and the Rainbow Room and Bill Ude's Cafe. These establishments closed promptly at the close of business last Wednesday.

STILL CAN EAT

Although the Rolly and Rainbow cocktail lounges are closed, Harry Peale has converted the former cocktail lounge into a dining room. This eatery is now opened from 5 to 12 each day and closed on Tuesday. The Snack Room also adjoining and managed by Peale will continue to operate on a summer schedule however, between the hours of 6 a.m. and 2 p.m. when it will close until five and remain open until midnight.

The restaurant which was operated in conjunction with the Amado will remain open, the management announced.

is for milady's styles. Nevertheless, many of his customers have been men from the British Isles. It is reported that they were amazed at the type and quality of clothes he had on display which reminded them of their home country before the war.

HEADQUARTERS HERE

Yesterday he announced the incorporation of his store and ideas into a corporation. The new concern will include an establishment just opened at Big Bear, the store in Palm Springs and one in Santa Barbara, operated by his partner, Marvin M. Wakefield. Fred Fulton will be president of the new company, Wakefield as vice-president. The capital stock has been placed at $150,000. The name of the concern is Fulton's Incorporated. Headquarters of the new chain store outfit will be in Palm Springs.

Extensive improvement of the corporation's physical properties is planned for next season.

of light reading
while planning a new county in the desert area.

MORE ABOUT . . .

Desert County . . .

baby, gave great prominence to Oliver's idea.

The idea is, simply, to put all of the desert into one county.
That would cut a slice from San Bernardino county in the 29
Palms area, from Imperial county on the northern edge, from San Diego county where the sun has blistered out a desert and the eastern half of Riverside county from a line laid due north from the peak of Santa Rosa mountains.

ON DESERT EDGE

"We'll let Riverside county have Palm Springs," said Oliver.
"It's so rich that if we tried to take that, we'd arouse too much opposition in Riverside."

"Let 'em boast in Riverside that their county is on the edge of the desert. Anyway you look at it, what's in a name? Riverside for a desert area! Might as well be Brookdale. And besides, the fertile Coachella and Palo Verde valleys are too far from the county seat."

Desert Center, developed by Steve Ragsdale, was proposed for the new county seat, midway between the two valleys it would serve. "Ragsdale would be made prime minister to the Indians," was Oliver's afterthought.

PLAY WITH SMUDGE

"Indio doesn't need the county seat because it's going to be another Phoenix in five years," Oliver prophesied. "As for Coachella, its going to grow like Glendale while Thermal and Mecca will fight to see which will be the next Beverly Hills, Blythe also will be prosperous."

"Let the people of Riverside keep on playing with their smudge pots in an orange grove," Oliver quipped. "They're simply not desert conscious."

"Our date growers would love to advertise 'Dates from Desert county' and the grapefruit of the Coachella valley is already stamped 'Desert'."

The desert area is without representation except for the sheriff's office, Oliver charged, and the people of Blythe have to

Work Started This Week on $160,000 Six Classroom Unit for Palm Springs High School to be Ready for New Year

Concrete is being poured this week for the foundations of a $160,000 six-classroom building on the campus of the local high school. The structure is to house high school students and provide space for a cafeteria and a room to be used temporarily for the storage of school equipment.

The contract for the construction of this building was let by the Board of Trustees for the local high school district in March to Waele-Campbell Co. and Smith, Inc. Harry Williams is the architect for the new building.

EXACT DUPLICATE

The new South Unit of the high school plant, as the new structure is called, is practically an exact duplicate of the high school building that now fronts on Ramon Road. It is to have the same elevation and architecture throughout, and will be constructed of reinforced concrete practically the same as the original unit. The new building will have a continuation of the front arcade which draws so many complimentary comments for its attractiveness. The new building is to have the same white-coated tile. It is expected that the front elevation for the enlarged high school will present a most attractive appearance from Ramon Road.

To the east of the new South Unit, the Master Plan calls for the erection of an auditorium. The high school gymnasium will be erected to the rear of the auditorium.

It is planned to have the new building completed by the middle of September when high school opens for the new school year, but it is problematical whether the contractors can meet this deadline, due to the fact that they have been delayed with the work while waiting for the approval of tests by the State Division of Architecture. The new building being constructed under the supervision of the State of California, is subject to much more rigid inspection than the average commercial building.

The Board of Trustees of the high school district is paying for the new building out of district funds accumulated over a period of five or six years. With a relatively low tax rate, the high school district has been able to save an average of about $25,000 per year toward a building fund. $85,000 of this accumulation has been put into U. S. Savings Bonds, and this money is available for use for this building project. The high school district will be able to complete and equip the new building with funds on hand without calling for a special building tax.

PLAN BOND ISSUE

For the auditorium and gymnasium and other service units planned for construction in the near future, a bond issue will have to be sold. The trustees are contemplating this requirement and are taking preliminary steps in setting up a program for the conduct of a bond issue.

Mrs. Charles J. Burket is president of the high school Board of Trustees. Other members are: Messrs. Gordon Feekings, clerk; W. R. Hillery, F. A. Purcell, and Eugene E. Theriault.

South Seas Transplanted to Village at Gala Party at Frank Davies Home Presented by Mr. and Mrs. Belding

The South Seas were moved to Palm Springs last Saturday evening when Paul and Anita Belding entertained 150 guests at a Hawaiian party in honor of their host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davies at the latter's home. Mr. and Mrs. Belding are spending June with the Davies.

A profusion of flowers, entwined in the palm trees and oleander bushes, gayly colored swinging lanterns, casting their reflection in the pool, exotic tropical settings made the affair one of the greatest in the Village this season.

FAREWELL AFFAIR

Tables were placed in the patio and around the pool. Hurricane lamps and floating flower candles were used as center pieces. A Hawaiian buffet supper was served and later dancing and swimming were enjoyed. The affair, besides honoring Frank and Lottie Davies, also was a farewell for many departing local socialites who are closing their homes for the summer.

Enjoying the gay affair were Messrs. and Mrs. Kenneth Kirk, Austin G. McManus, William Malouf, James Whitehorn, Charles Farrell, Robert Ransom, Harold Hicks, Earl Coffman, George Roberson, Culver Nichols, Darsie Lloyd, Philip Delano, John Chaffey, Benjamin Gale, Barney Hinkle, Raymond Cree, Mike Flavin, Earl Strebe, Dr. and Mrs. Johnson and dancing is planned there.

Costello, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Purcell, Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Staley, Dr. and Mrs. James Oliver, Anthony Burke, who, by the way, is leaving for London and Paris next month.

OUTSTANDING COSTUMES

Outstanding Hawaiian costumes were worn by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bering and Captain and Mrs. Tommy Lyons, the latter the former Lois Lee Bering.

Other guests were Messrs. and Mrs. Fred Ingram, Frank Bogart, John Warburton, Walter McManus, Frank Cutler, Frank King, Eugene E. Theriault and Arthur E. Bailey.

Out-of-town guests included Claire Windsor, Rudy Vallee, William Bannerman, Mrs. Kenneth Pope of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frost, Fred Brinkerman, Marie McDonald, Irene Hendry, Wallace Forde, Norma Bailey, Mrs. Frank Willard of New York, Mr. and Mrs. William Herron of Washington, D.C., Gordon Kaufman, well known architect, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gardner and Herbert Kettell. The latter is Mr. Belding's associate in the new exclusive community to be built in Sunrise way and known as the Desert Palms Estates. A million dollar tropical hotel with sky room for dining and dancing is planned there.

Torney Deal . . .

debt in the neighborhood of travel one half mile around the El Mirador property in order to reach their homes is Tachevah drive. Since the end of the war and the abandonment of the hospital by the army, citizens have complained to the city asking that the street be re-opened.

At present the street is fenced off with a locked gate starting at Palos Verdes. In the event of fire, Alworth pointed out, fire equipment would have to travel a greater distance than would be necessary if the street was opened again.

ALL OVER AGAIN

During the recent visit of Alworth and Councilman Culver Nichols in Washington, the two labored long hours and burned "mid-night oil" in redrafting the city's application for the acquisition of Torney. When it was presented to the legal department of War Assets in the nation's capital, both men were told that the application complied fully with all regulations.

The letter just received practically asks for a duplication of the application originally filed and will take many hours again in drafting same.

BUSY ON ANSWER

The War Assets Corporation asks in this letter to what uses the city plans to put all of Torney hospital. In addition the federal bureau wants to know the number of beds for the Community Hospital will provide, an explanation as to the degree of public benefit which will accrue, and maps indicating the use of each building and the rooms contained in them. Alworth has commenced to comply with this request and the answers to the questions the letter contained.

"We're pleased with the great interest that representative John Phillips and senators Sheridan Downey and Knowland are taking in the city's efforts to obtain the Torney hospital," Alworth said. He added that representatives of War Assets, and the three solons from California spent considerable time in a recent meeting held in the offices of Senator Downey.

"The situation hasn't changed any as yet," declared Alworth, "and the city's chances of getting all of Torney are still good."

MORE ABOUT . . .

Be Patient . . .

Coffman said. "It is the hope of the Tramway Authority to make the price of using the lift at a level where service will attract large crowds."

There were some in the Village who expressed the thought that $5 per round trip would not be too much when one considers the rapidity of transition from desert to mountain top as compared to the cost of driving an automobile into mountain areas.

A source close to the Tramway Authority said that the $3 fare or at the most $3.50, is the plan that has received the most serious consideration. This fare it was said would be put into effect when the giant lift is completed and in operation.

CHANCE TO LOOK

Once at the 8,500 foot terminus of the Tramway the plans include the erection of a huge building which will accommodate several thousand visitors and winter sports enthusiasts. In the structure there will be plenty of lounge chairs where visitors may enjoy the magnificent view of the desert and surrounding mountains.

Also under consideration by Tramway Authority is the letting of concessions within this building. It is expected that there will be a restaurant and shops where people will be able to buy macinaws, skis and other needed winter sports equipment. It is understood that a restaurateur of national repute has approached the authority with an application to establish a swanky eating place at the upper terminus of the tramway.

COMPARES TRAMS

Gordon Bannerman, chief engineer of the American Steel and Wire Company, supervisor of the engineering that will be followed by the construction of the Tramway, built the only other passenger tramway in the United States, at Franconia, New Hampshire. He said the cable length of that tramway was 2,000 feet and the round trip fare in effect there now is 95 cents. He also declared that as many as 2,000 people used the tramway there in one day, and were crowded into the building at the upper end of the lift to enjoy the scenery. Nothing but sandwiches and coffee are sold at the concessions there.

The upper site of the tramway here will be situated in Long Valley. Those who have visited the place declared the spot one of the most beautiful in the country. Although snow is not in evidence there around the year, there will be times when skiers starting at the 10,803 foot level will be able to make a run all the way down into Long Valley.

VARIED SPORTS

Most of the time, however, skiing will end at near the 9,000 foot level. Earl Coffman said the end of the ski run would be some distance from where the building will be erected. It is also reported that in different areas of the snow country, skiers will find the type of snow to suit their individual liking. By this it is meant that parts of the mountain will sport powdery snow while another side will have hard-surfaced snow.

No time is being lost by the contracting firms in following through with the preliminary construction plans of the tramway. Tuesday morning, Jim Maynard, local policeman, now on leave of absence, and Ralph Trout, of the water company, left on a reconnaissance trip to find the best trails for the movement of equipment to camp sites for workmen and the most logical places where these camps can be established.

The first camp at the head of Chino Canyon, 2700 feet above the floor of the desert, will probably be in operation before the end of June. Another camp will be established at the 8,500 foot level later. Communication between these two camp sites may be conducted by radio-phone, Bannerman said.

On June 23, members of the Tramway Authority, and officials of the California Park commission and others will make the trip to Long Valley via Idyllwild. The trip is expected to take more than four days. The object of the journey will be to give the park men a picture of the upper site of the tramway.

WAL To Resume Vacation Lines

Air line passenger service to Yellowstone Park, suspended in 1941 as a wartime measure will be resumed June 15 and will connect Palm Springs via Los Angeles with that famous resort. Western Air Lines now serving this community announced that it will operate two flights a day out of Los Angeles with an elapsed flying time of 6 hours.

Western Air Line will also open air service for the first time on July 1, to Jackson, Wyoming, gateway to Grand Teton National Park, considered the finest hunting and fishing grounds in America. Cedar City, Utah, hub of the great scenic area containing Zion, Bryce, and Grand Canyon National Parks, will be provided with air service by Western Air on July 15.

Announced schedules show that flights to Yellowstone will leave

Los Angeles at 12:45 a.m. and arrive at West Yellowstone Park at 8:15 a.m. The return flight will start at 6:30 p.m. and reach Los Angeles at 11:59 p.m. To make connection with the Yellowstone flight, Villagers will have to board a Los Angeles bound plane at 8:33 p.m. at the local army air base. The fare from here is $49.40.

The new Japanese government has had its first cabinet crisis, apparently becoming educated in the ways of democracy.

Parole Officers Oppose Probation

Riverside—Closing sessions of the California State Probation and Parole Officers association were held Saturday at the Mission Inn with the public as guests. Karl Holton, director, C.Y.A., spoke on "The State Program For Youth Needs" and Walter Gordon, chairman, adult authority, spoke on "The Organization and Functions of the Adult Authority of the State of California." Dr. Ralph G. Eckert, chief of the bureau of parent education, state department of education, addressed the group on the subject: "Building Tomorrow's World." During the business meeting, a resolution was adopted opposing summary probation without investigation by a probation officer. The use of a suspended sentence instead was declared an adequate device.

A pre-sentence investigation by a probation officer was recommended for all cases involving felony. Repeal of restrictions on judges in granting probation also was suggested. College degree standards of education and experience for prospective probation officers were urged.

The speaker at the luncheon was Mrs. Dora Shaw Heffner, director, department of mental hygiene, whose topic was "The Program of the Department of Mental Hygiene." Entertainment was provided by George Brooks, Hugh McHugh, Frank Bradley, and Don Haffner from Poly high school. Rev. Edward Garner, pastor of Grace Methodist church, pronounced benediction.

Three Days of Fun Planned For Beaumont Cherry Festival

Cherry Season Comes To End With Carnival

Beaumont's 24th annual Cherry Harvest Festival of Friday, Saturday and Sunday will see the culmination of the earliest cherry season in Beaumont history.

The coming weekend will still see the Bing and Royal Ann cherries waiting at the groves for the visitors. The crop has been short this season because of the "unusually unusual" spring weather. Yet there have been cherries for the thousands of Southland visitors coming to Beaumont, though some had to accept Nature's rationing with a philosophy expressed by Mrs. Walter J. Burton of the Mesa, "Well, here are the cherries God gave us this season; we are sorry we can't give you more but such as the Lord has given us we offer to you." The ordinary season is into the first week of July. There will be small lots of cherries after the festival, says Dr. Guy Bogart, for the past 20 years Beaumont's ambassador of good will to southern countries, but for the main crop is far west to the 1946 cherries and hail to a bumper peach crop this summer.

PROGRAM

Festival Chairman William C. King announces the following program for the end of the week:

Friday: Carnival at City Carnival Grounds.

Saturday:

2 p.m.: Free entertainment—open air vaudeville—Fifth street.

7:30 p.m.: Same.

8 p.m.: Crowning of Queen; presentation of Queen's trophy.

8:15 p.m.: Free entertainment—open air vaudeville—Fifth street.

Sunday:

1:30 p.m.: Participants in Grand Parade will meet on school grounds back of Beaumont high school.

2 p.m.: Start of Grand Parade. Parade will leave high school grounds and proceed through the business district, from there it will turn back to end at the City Park Baseball Field.

Introduction of visiting horsemen.

Exhibition of horsemanship. Gifts to Queen and Maid of Honor.

Drawing for free Chevrolet Sedan.

There will be a carnival at the City Carnival Grounds throughout the three days. Choice Beaumont cherries may be purchased at the orchards.

Publicity Director Dr. Guy Bogart was in Los Angeles and the beach cities Thursday and Friday and has secured wide radio, newspaper and organization publicity. On Thursday, over KKHJ, he spoke five minutes on Norma V. Young's household hour. Jillie James is queen contest chairman; L. R. Taylor and Jim Livingston, parade; Charles Machek, entertainment; Alfred Vestry and Dan Bedford, cherries; Guy Bogart, public relations.

ENTER PARADE

The Cherry Festival committee has extended an invitation to Palm Springs to participate in the parade Sunday afternoon. They especially desire horseback riders as there will be a large equestrian section of the parade. All horsemen who wish to take part are asked to be on hand to ride in the parade shortly before 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Any Palm Springs firm wishing to enter a float in the parade should be there with the float at the same time. Leighton Taylor and J. M. Livingston of Beaumont are chairmen of the parade committee.

"I Rise to Remark"

By CONGRESSMAN JOHN PHILLIPS

This is written as Washington waits for the election returns. It is a good time to comment on a detail of political life, which affects representative government.

This nation was created as a Republic. In a Republic, the people send representatives (using a California example) to Sacramento and to Washington, and say something like this, "You go and represent us. You read the bills and listen to the arguments and, knowing how we feel, you vote as you think best for the Nation and for us."

Ambitious political groups are trying to change this plan. They want to say, "You go to Sacramento or to Washington, and do exactly as we tell you to do. We will tell you how to vote on every important bill. We will control you. If you don't vote as we tell you, the people in our group will vote against you at the next election."

Some groups carry it so far that friendly legislators have seen "endorsements" withheld because out of thirty or forty votes, the legislator may have voted contrary to "orders" on a single bill. This is dictatorship, just as surely as if it centered at the other end, in one man.

The machinery of this system is of course, propaganda. The people at home must be told what to do, and how to vote, and what to write their representatives. Therein lies the danger. The American people have, rightly, been taught to have confidence in what their government officials tell them, and in what they read in the papers, and hear over the radio.

Today, it is necessary to examine every release from a government agency. Let me give you a brief example of what I mean. While the hysterical head of the OES was annoying the air waves recently with misleading statements about what Congress was doing to the Emergency Price Control Act, the statement appeared in papers all over the U.S., that "23 women's organizations, with a combined membership of over 10,000,000" had united to oppose the actions of the Congress. This interested me. Who were these women, and which organizations?

The list, given to the Senate Committee, by the "representative" of these 23 organizations, showed them to be: the General Federation of Women's Clubs, with 2½ million members; the National Women's Trade Union League, 1½ millions; the National Council of Catholic Women, 5 millions; the National Board of the YWCA with 2½ millions; the National Congress of P.T.A.'s, 3½ millions; the National Educational Association, with 331,000; the Consumers' Union of the U. S., 140,000; the National Council of Jewish Women, 65,000; the A.A.U.W., 80,000, and 13 others, social, economic and church groups.

I think it may surprise some of the good women in these organizations to discover that they are being represented in Washington by Miss Caroline Ware, who claims to be their spokesman, as opposing the idea that an American manufacturer or an American farmer is entitled to receive the costs of production, plus a reasonable profit, on what he makes or grows; and as being opposed to the prompt release of price ceilings and controls, just as soon as the commodity comes into production and there is no longer a scarcity, and as opposed to ending, say within a year, the historically disastrous and deceptive consumer subsidy program.

Miss Ware was asked how she came to represent all these groups. She said her statement had been read and approved by "responsible officials" in each of these organizations. She also said each organization had adopted a position in support of the statement. In her own organization (the A.A.U.W.) she finally admitted that the position had been taken over a year before "at a convention." Pressed about the "convention" she finally said (I quote) "The convention was not held physically, because of transportation difficulties. It was held by mail and the number of votes was about 2000." (Note by J.P.: 2000 out of 80,000; on a general policy vote taken by mail a year before.)

On that basis, the OPA released the statement that Miss Ware was authorized to speak for 23 organizations, with a membership of 10,000,000 women. There was just one bit of information which Miss Ware did not give the Senate Committee. I will give it now to the readers of this column. Who is Miss Ware?

From 1941 to 1942, Miss Caroline Ware was head of the Program Planning Unit, Consumer Division, of the OPA; and since 1943, she has been the chairman of the executive committee, of the OPA Advisory Committee.

Do you wonder that here in Washington we check every statement released from a government agency, particularly that agency? Constant repetition, even of truthful statements, will eventually get the people to believe them. You remember what Lincoln said about fooling the people. There is one unanswerable reply; it annoys the propagandists greatly. It is a good, hearty laugh.

County-Bred Race Horses Starring at Hollywood Park

For the third successive week California-bred horses continued to show the way at Hollywood Park's brilliant summer meeting and through the first 15 days of racing they have won 59 of the 120 races while earning a total of $227,410. Of this sum, $143,780 was in first monies alone and, as a result, the Hollywood Turf Club has paid $14,378 in awards to the breeders of the California-bred winners.

Leading California-bred performer at the Inglewood track is Louis B. Mayer's Honeymoon and for her breeder-owner she has won both the Sequoia Handicap and the Hollywood Oaks and has earned $34,950 in purses in addition to $3,495 in breeders' awards. Another Mayer-bred, The Waffle Man, has also won two races while nine other horses produced at the movie executive's Perris Stock Farm have also entered the winner's circle to bring Mayer's total earnings in breeders' awards to $5,085.

Following Mayer on the list of leading breeders is Harry N. Isenberg and from his Iron Mountain Ranch at Riverside have come four winners of five races and they have earned for him $955 in breeders' awards. Other leading breeders are Rex Ellsworth, three winners of three races and $387.50 in breeders' awards, and Ed Janss, Jr., Neil S. McCarthy and Walter G. McCarty, all of whom have bred two winners of two races.

Beau Pere, standing at Mayer's Perris nursery, leads all California sires of winners at Hollywood Park and five of his get headed by the great Honeymoon, have won six races and $41,750. Other leading sires are Alibhai, four winners of five races; War Glory, three winners of three races, and Justice F., two winners of three races.

Doing the Village

with
Moya Henderson

Reports are coming in from all over the globe (with the exception of Lower Slobovia) wherever natives are vacationing. The beaches are as usual very popular. Ruth Roberson, ever loyal to the Springs, keeps migrating back from Balboa to spend a day or two in the heat. With a new yacht in the family, you'd think she'd be content to stay there forever. The other half of the Desert Inn family, the Earl Coffman's, are relaxing on the beach at Santa Monica, making the Miramar their headquarters.

If you wander farther up the coast you'll find Hortense Murray, probably playing bridge, in the lobby of the Santa Barbara Biltmore Hotel. The Bill Veiths spent a week at their Balboa cottage and are now back in the Village preparing to take their house trailer on a leisurely trip across country to visit son Charles and his wife in New Jersey. Ruth DuBose and son Donny are earnestly pouring over travel folders on the High Sierra. Mother and son will spend the last two weeks of June, appropriately enough, at June Lodge.

TAKE TO HILLS

The migration to Idyllwild began in earnest this week with the Carl Lykken's, the Lauritz Hanssens and the C. S. Hendersons all opening their mountain cabins for the summer. The Hendersons however, reluctantly returned to the Village to tend to business for a few more weeks. The Harry Williams have taken the Steven's cabin on Cedar street again this summer and Mr. Williams will be able to leave his drafting board on the Plaza roof at least weekends to be up in the pines.

The newest property owner added to the list of Hill enthusiasts is Frank Doro and family. Frank, for many years employed with Power company here, has decided to go into business for himself and is starting to build a shop as well as a home on Circle Drive.

Vera and Gordon Nicholson dropped down off the Hill Sunday only long enough to pick up a load of merchandise for their Idyllwild shop. They're busy adding a new room on their cabin in this summer.

BACK IN VILLAGE

Back visiting in the Village last week was Morris Richardson, former Palm Springs high school principal and lately discharged from the Navy. Little Jackie Darnel was also in the Village to visit with his grandparents, the Ben Darnels of Sequoia Apartments.

Jimmy Hume's birthday party last week, given by his wife, Imogene, was really a surprise. On returning home from work he found a large group of friends gathered around a groaning board to wish him well.

Billy and Hutch Mosely were hosts to their friends at a lovely outdoor dinner party last Saturday evening. The group gathered in the rumpus room off the Ken Dubose's for cocktails and adjourned to the garden for the barbecue. The rumpus in the Rumpus room then continued till the wee small hours.

Another favorite gathering spot on Ocatilla Road is the swimming pool of the Gordon Youngs. Any Sunday afternoon will find the Youngs and their neighbors and their neighbors' children really enjoying the pool that Gordy constructed himself.

REED'S READER

Perhaps you have received the impression that this alleged column is for the purpose of selling you phonograph records (los discos terrificos, paisanos). But no, my pretties, not today. Today the stealthy stiletto, the dangerous dirk, the blazing broadsword (or sump'n) comes into play.

Did you see where that black Republican, Phat, read me a lecture last week on the length of time that Lombardo has played the Roosevelt and the amount of moola that he has mowed for doing so? Doesn't he realize that he is aligning himself, by implication, with those poor characters (reactionaries like himself) with only a few million bucks apiece, arteriosclerosis, and a few peptic ulcers to their names?

Those folk go to hear Lombardo just to have their blood pressure reduced and their ulcers soothed—it's that kind of music, really. But there's no accounting for tastes... I have a cousin who likes to mix horse-radish with cottage cheese—and then pours maple syrup over it!

Now, just for the record, or records (why, the stinker! He said no commercial today!) there are a few repeats on the counter that you good people have been yowling for—in a nice way, of course. Most yowled-for is Hoagy Carmichael's "How Little We Know." His album with "Stardust," "Sweet Lorraine," and others is in again, too.

Best bet of the week, though, is Chuchu Martinez giving out with an album of South American ditties—good enough to make you go and borrow a pair of maracas. This, my friends, at Reed's — 342 North Palm Canyon.

DAIRY PRODUCTS GIVE YOU MORE FOR YOUR FOOD DOLLAR!

"HOW CAN I FEED MY FAMILY PROPERLY and still keep within my budget?" is the biggest question facing most housewives . . . not once in a while, but all the time!

One simple, basic answer to that question is,
"Use more dairy foods."

Dairy foods supply the minerals, vitamins, proteins and carbohydrates in the well-balanced proportions you need for health, growth and vigor.
They are the richest food source of calcium, needed for strong bones, beautiful teeth, clear complexions.

From the standpoint of nutritional values, dairy products are your most economical foods. At twice the price, they would still be your best "food buys."

Highway Program for County to be Presented Board

The County Highway and Transportation committee, of which R. H. Westbrook is chairman, has been working on material for presentation to Senator Collier's State Legislative Interim Committee, which is expected in Riverside for a three-day hearing about the middle of June.

It is necessary that an outline of necessary work to be done, such as realignment, widening, resurfacing, etc., with cost estimates, be prepared on every county and state highway throughout the county, as well as inclusion of needed new roads.

ACCORDING TO NEED

It is the plan of the committee to arrange their program in two parts, one of which will be immediate critical needs and the other future needs. Various road projects will be arranged in order of need so far as affecting the entire county.

The three-day program will consist of trips over the county as well as presenting of facts at a hearing in the Court House.
An immense amount of time is devoted to this program by a small group of the highway committee, consisting of Harry S.
Payne of Corona, chairman of County Roads sub-committee, A.
C. Fulmer, state highway chairman, William Fleming, chairman of aviation sub-committee, Howard Hays, chairman of the Riverside city highway committee, under R. H. Westbrook, general chairman. The committee as outlined is being assisted by A. C.
Keith, county surveyor, Stanley
Bates, secretary-manager Riverside chamber of commerce, and Bob Fullenwider, secretary-manager County Chamber of Commerce.

PLAN FOR BOOKLET

It is hoped that all material, including maps, can be bound together in booklet form in such a way as to make an impressive brochure of Riverside County
Highway and Air Port needs.

A financial analysis will be worked out showing how much of the proposed work can be paid for on the basis of the present state and federal aid and how much of the program will have to be financed in other ways, possibly by an increase in present gas taxes.

She plans to spend two months in the "south of the border" re-

the fall.

During her absence from the Village, the popular "Head to

They will be resumed in the

Small World

Conky Finds Hitchhiker
Is One of His Kin

The late Wendell Willkie said
it was "one world".
Conky (he's in again) Conkwright, says it's a "small world."
Last week Mrs. Conkwright returned to her home after attending funeral rites for her father,
Prof. W. B. Strong of Tucson, Ariz. Mrs. Strong returned here with her.

The day after, Conky (in person) was driving to KCMJ studio to put on his daily broadcast
when he picked up a soldier hitch-hiker.

"Where ya going?" he asked.

"Tucson," said the soldier.

"Ever happen to know a Prof.
W. B. Strong there?" asked Conkwright.

"Waal, yes," said the soldier,
"he was my wife's grand-pappy."

Conkwright hasn't yet figured out the exact relationship between himself and the soldier.
But while he's working on it, he muses:

"Small world!"

Today California Celebrates 100th Bear Flag Holiday

Today is a state holiday.
It is not only National Flag day but also the 100th anniversary of the raising of the Bear
Flag in the state at Sonoma.

Locally, the holiday is being observed by state offices, city offices and the Bank of America.

Villagers, in the meantime,
were urged to display American Flags today in honor of Flag Day and also those who have Bear Flags, to display them in honor of the centennial.

Gov. Earl Warren, in announcing the call for the state holiday, said:

"California will on June 14 observe not only National Flag day but the first centennial of the dramatic series of historical events which led to its statehood.
This is the month of memories—the centennial of our state's beginnings.

"It was 100 years ago on June 14, 1846, that a small band of American settlers rode into the sleeping town of Sonoma and gave positive demonstration of their determination that government must originate with the people. It was over the plaza in Sonoma on that day that the Bear Flag which is today California's emblem was first raised."

Lions Club Softball Team Defeats Rotarians in Opening Game of New Season by 14 to 5 Before Crowd

It was "batter-up" for the first time this year when softball teams representing the Lions Club and the Rotary clashed in the first game of the summer tournament at the Field Club Monday night.

A trouncing defeat was handed the Rotary team by the lambasting Lions' aggregation which ended in a score of 14 to 5. Home run by Bill Lux in the ninth inning with the bases loaded, dreaded dream of all pitchers, came true when he knocked one off the servings by P. Canales, pitcher for the defeated team. Earlier, Watson's bat connected with a solid crack which was also good for a four base ticket.

BIG CHIEF IN BOX

Pitching for the Lions Club for five innings was LaRue who was then replaced by August Kettmann. During the first inning the Lions garnered two runs but the Rotary outfit came back in the second with three. The third and fourth sessions were touch and go for both teams. However, after the fifth, Lions began their victory march to the batter's plate and the game was practically on ice after that.

More than 250 spectators were in the stands to root and holler for their favorite teams.

Hiram H. Benedict, former local architect, was in Palm Springs the fore part of the week on a combined business and pleasure visit. He is now located in Seattle.

Benedict was formerly associated with Brewster and Benedict of Los Angeles and Palm Springs and later with Finlayson and Benedict of Monrovia and Palm Springs. He had offices in the 300 block on Palm Canyon drive.

While here this week he investigated the building situation with the view to reopening an office here in the fall.

During the war he was an architect for the U. S. Navy.

LIKES IT LIGHT, AIRY

Editor, The Desert Sun: Always did enjoy your part of The Desert Sun, "On This Side of the Sun". The innocent placing of pictures last week and your subsequent explanation did my heart good. I just naturally have a funny spot in my make-up and have always enjoyed the light airy humor in the Desert Sun.

Compliments from me to Frank Partridge for his photographs. I am writing a series of articles on "Healthful Hobbies" for Health magazine and want some of those horseback rider pictures to illustrate it.

The Home Service Department of your Gas Company suggests these practical ways you can help in Today's Famine Emergency —

1 BREADS
Cut down on all wheat products: flour, wholewheat, cereals, spaghetti. Use fewer slices of bread... prevent waste!
Suggestions: substitute oatmeal, potatoes, starchy vegetables, available cornmeal.

2 FATS
Cut down on all fats and oils. Save left-over pork and bacon fat for cooking. Turn in unusable fat to your butcher.
Suggestions: substitute oil-less or cooked salad-dressings. Avoid fried foods.

3 CALORIES
Cut down on all high-calorie foods... such as bread, pastries, fats, meats.
Suggestions: substitute milk and milk products, more vegetables, fruits for desserts... fish, sea foods, poultry, eggs, hominy.

These hours may be changed again within the next few weeks but until further notice, will prevail, Mrs. Lippman said.

Ontarian's Auto Found in Village

William Mayfield of Ontario came to Palm Springs Monday and drove home in his automobile which had been stolen in the Citrus Belt city last week.

Local police, notified to look for the stolen car in a state-wide broadcast, found it abandoned here and stored it at Tanner's garage until Mayfield called for it. It was undamaged.

What Goes On at Rancho Mirage

Hilda and Stan Corson are feeling exceptionally happy this week to see the walls of their new home up to ceiling height, after waiting so long for it. We know that the house, with its thick adobe walls, will be cool and comfortable in the summer and warm and cozy in the winter.

Dan Magdiel, builder of "Mansions of Clay", will be very happy demonstrating his methods of construction and is on the job at the Corson house all day long.

Another happy person this week, Reefa Deaton, wife of John Deaton, Beverly Hills Mercury and Lincoln distributor, is pleased because Bill Munchoff is shaping up her house so that she can move into it early in the fall. Neva Munchoff says that, while she is glad all these other people are getting their houses fixed up, she wishes the contractor would come home and fix up their own abode. We are all very happy to have them living in their beautiful adobe on highway 111.

Phat, did you ever hear of "Yucatos"? Frank Morgan just phoned to say he is shipping in four of them from Mexico. (Just guessing, Don, that is, but I think they are plants—Phat).

Claire Leahy has gone back up to the Ambassador. She must be looking for some more of those kilties she saw on the queen's birthday.

George Ashley, president of the Rancho Mirage Chamber of Commerce, has taken some of his fine gems up to Los Angeles to exhibit at the convention of lapidarians there.

Ted Hutchison, of the Admiral-Hutchison combination is back mixing cement again. A short vacation included a family reunion celebrating his mother's 81st birthday. His mother, Louisa W. Hutchison, is one of the early Californians, having been born on the corner of First and Main streets in Los Angeles when that part of town was a residence district. After the reunion he and his mother took a quick trip to San Francisco and Sacramento and, aside from visiting friends and relatives, traveled through such places as the Ojai-Cuyama Vallies, the Pinnacles National Monument, the delta country along the lower Sacramento River, the Mother Lode district, Kings River National Park and Sequoia National Park.

The John Crofts are leaving tomorrow to pick up their daughter, Bobbie, at Girls' State at Sacramento, Calif. From there they will leave for a trip through Pennsylvania, New York and Ontario, Canada, touching at Niagara Falls, just ten miles from this old fellow's birthplace, St. Catharines. He is, without a doubt, the finest cabinet maker I have ever known and I wish he would get himself back right away instead of Sept. 1, as they have planned.

Cilff Henderson tells me, whether you know it or not, that this grey cab over job of mine is known in India as a Burma Buggy instead of going by the regulation name of a Navy ton and a half cargo truck. As you argue, struggle and shove for a shined up 1942 model car known as a 1946 model, I, in my brand new Burma Buggy, am having a lot of fun by shoving the thing into front-wheel drive and taking off across the desert.

Gotta get to my Spanish lessons. Jimmie Hume, of the Palm Springs Music Company just sold me the "New World Spanish" on RCA Victor Records — Adios Amigos.

Clean Up Warning Broadcast by Fire Chief to Village

You've read about it in The Sun. Now you've also heard it over KCMJ.

Clean up that rubbish — take precautions so there won't be fires.

The long dry summer is at hand and every care must be taken to prevent disastrous fires — or any other kind of fires.

Yesterday morning, Fire Chief Bill Leonesio spoke over KCMJ on Conky Conkright's program at 11 a.m.

Chief Leonesio reiterated his warnings about fire hazards and quoted city ordinances which give the department authority to act to prevent fires.

In the meantime, besides the printed word and the oral warnings, Chief Leonesio and his staff were looking over the Village, noting danger spots and issuing reminders to owners to "clean up."

Citations will be issued wherever fire department warnings are ignored.

Going to El Paso

Mrs. Dawson Goff left Palm Springs Wednesday for El Paso, Texas, to see her husband, Sgt. Goff, who is hospitalized there.

Sgt. Goff, who was with the armored division overseas, was wounded in the fighting in Germany.

His brother, Chet of the Marine Corps, was also wounded in the war, being a casualty of the Iwo Jima campaign.

Well Known Village Resident Taken By Death at Home

Last rites were said last Thursday for Don D. Prothro, well known about the Village, who succumbed at his home in Thermal June 2, at the age of 55. Services were held at Farrar's Chapel in Indio. Interment was at Sawtelle. He was a veteran of World War I.

Mr. Prothro came to the desert three years ago, making his home at Thermal but frequenting Palm Springs almost daily. He was retired after a business life in Long Beach but did light work here to pass away the time.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth, son, Joseph and daughter, Diane.

AROUND TSAY-KIZZY MESA WITH CHICO

Part IV

The little box canyon in which we now found ourselves was only about a hundred feet across and roughly semicircular in outline, with the pool at one end and the trees and rushes at the other. We first examined the small dam, wondering who constructed it. It was two feet wide and some six feet tall, bridging a narrow gap between the sandstone cliffs about fifteen feet across.

In the cement on the top were scratched several groups of initials, including "M. K." and the date 1937. On later queries at Goulding's, we learned that "M. K." stood for Maurice Kneen, Harry Goulding's brother-in-law, and that they themselves had carried the cement into that remote area and built the retention dam as a part of a widespread campaign by the Indian Service at that time to provide more permanent watering places for the Navaho shepherds. This work, collecting in this bowl above, seeps out gradually to the overhanging ledge and into the first little pool below, where it is readily accessible by the Indian sheep and goats, as well as horses.

Without saying a word, we both began taking off our shoes. Dusty's antics had made us envious. We heaped our clothes into two piles and waded into the pool. The water was much colder than we had anticipated; nevertheless we plunged in bodily and splashed around. It was cold enough to be exhilarating, and Chico even crawled up onto the dam and dived twice into the shallow depths, even though at the deepest point, the pool was only four feet. There were no rocks on the bottom, only a thick sticky mud.

After thrashing about for several moments, we returned to shore to dry off in the brisk breeze that had arisen. It was surprising how refreshed we both felt, and the impending weariness of the long hike had abruptly vanished. Lighting a cigarette, Chico suggested we explore the box-canyon more thoroughly while we were drying. So, stepping gingerly over the stubby grass and sharp litter of twigs, we investigated every crack in the confined area. Our search was rewarded, for we soon came upon a well-concealed passageway through the cliffs. We followed it several yards until it angled sharply away and narrowed down at the very base it was less than a foot wide, with the cliffs on either side shooting upward at sharp angles several hundred feet above us, shutting out all the sunlight. Water had collected in deep pools at the bottom of this V-shaped split.

INCH THROUGH CRACK

I turned to Chico. "Shall we try it?" I asked. He nodded a silent assent and took the lead. It was far too narrow for Dusty; we made him remain behind. Inching our way into the narrowest portion, the only way we could continue was by pushing our backs against one side, bracing our feet against the opposite wall, and inching ourselves up to where the breach was wider and then, using the same technique, creeping laterally down the length of the crack. Special care had to be taken not to move too rapidly or the coarse rough sandstone surface would have scratched our bare skins. Finally we attained the farther end of the passage, where it began to widen out again, and we crept back to the floor of the canyon.

This new little canyon was even more hemmed-in than the other, and only a tenth as large, measuring about ten feet across and twenty feet long, triangular in shape with five hundred foot vertical walls on the three sides. Our route had brought us in at one corner of the triangle; the second corner was blank wall, but the third had another crevice higher up its bank. Chico was all for poking into this. Getting up to this small opening was a feat in itself. I remained below, giving him a boost up to it. He was gone out of sight a few moments and then reappeared disappointed. It had narrowed down to a few yards beyond.

ANOTHER WORLD

Rejoining me, we paused a moment to take in our surroundings. It was as if we had been dropped into another world, so utterly isolated and alone were we. In fact, the place gave off a mysterious eerie feeling that made us restless. We retraced our route by the same crab-like method of progression. In the return, Chico climbed higher than he needed, and found himself stretched awkwardly between the two walls. This so amused him that he suddenly burst out laughing, his chuckles echoing through the canyon. However, his athletic prowess, developed in high school and college football, got him out of the dangerous situation without any injury, and he leaped to the narrow band of sand below. Dusty was more than glad to see us, wagging his stubby tail madly. We tip-toed back to our clothes, both wishing we had the tough soles of the Navaho shepherd we had seen earlier, and hurriedly dressed again. Leaving the dam and its pool, we backtracked out of the canyon and past the little ruin in the cave, back into the main canyon that separates Tsay-kizzy Mesa from Oljato Mesa. This canyon widened out from here on, across a broad area of scattered sand dunes. All along we saw the perpetual battle for survival waged by the sand and the desert plants, half buried yuccas and ephedra clumps bravely sticking above the surface.

NO ANIMAL LIFE

Animal life was strangely absent. No birds did we see along this portion of the trail, although once, from a distance, we did hear the nervous call of a rock wren, and I mentally pictured the little bird bobbing up and down on some boulder. Insects were few, also. One lone Eleodes beetle (tumble-bug) was seen wandering across a dune. Later a large bright blue dragonfly whisked by. Dragonflies are usually associated with marshes and stagnant pools of water, but they seem to be rather common in desert areas. During our stay in Monument Valley we were to see several of them.

The canyon soon began to narrow down again, and presently to our left, actually in the cliffs of Oljato Mesa, was another point of interest we had been told about: a natural bridge. To reach its base required a short climb over and across several narrow ravines. There, carved out of the massive sandstone, was a perfect little bridge, about twenty feet high, fifty feet across, and about six feet thick, arching from the base of the mesa onto an otherwise isolated mass of rock. Local residents refer to it as the Little Rainbow, so that was the name I affixed on my sketch map.

Regaining the main canyon, we continued on down toward the Goulding Trading Post. The walls continued closing in at an alarming rate. Glancing back at the cliffs to my left, I suddenly saw the giant formation called The Elephants that Aunt Molly had described to me. There, as if charging out of Oljato Mesa, was a tall big-eared pachyderm, bearing straight down into the canyon, and beside her, to her right, was apparently her baby, running to catch up. They were duly added to the map.

Just beyond, another steep-walled canyon angled off to the right, into Tsay-kizzy Mesa. Wagon tracks led up here, so we investigated and found a board-covered spring there. Harry Goulding later informed us that this was his original source of drinking water; however, it could not be depended upon. To supplement this he drilled a well out at the edge of the Valley in front of his trading post, getting water all right, but water that was many times harder than that considered fit for drinking. To supply the 20th Century-Fox studio crews on location there, water had to be hauled in some six miles from the well at Anderson's Camp.

Coming back to the main canyon once more, we found it narrowed down to a gap of only a hundred feet, with gigantic columns guarding either edge, for all the world like huge door posts. No wonder the Navahos call this Tsay-dodden-nah, meaning Rock Door.

We passed through the Rock Door, climbing a sharp rise, rounded the corner to our right, and were home again. Dusty bounded on up the path toward the mess hall, intent upon food. Chico headed wearily for his house-on-wheels, his panelled delivery truck named "Die Blaue Blume," anxious to get to the showers. I walked on to the green cabin Jack and I had been occupying, tired but happy over the long trip around the mesa. We had seen many things those few hours, things we would never have even dreamed existed so near at hand if we hadn't gone to seek them out.

Ten minutes later found us both under the warm, welcomed showers in the bunk-house, and already we began planning what we would do on the morrow. I was eager to explore the far side of Oljato Mesa, and Chico agreed that it might prove very interesting. Little of us dreamed that our second trip together would lead us to rattlesnakes, a uranium mine, and a heretofore unknown petrified forest!

Azalia Trails Camp Still Has Room for Few More Girls

Azalia Trails, Riverside Girl Scout summer camp on Mt. San Jacinto, can accommodate a few more campers this summer, announces Mrs. V. W. Grubbs, Riverside, chairman. Periods still open for registration of Brownies or Girl Scouts are July 11 to 25 and August 1 to 15.

These two-week camping periods are under the trained direction of a complete camp personnel, including Irene Noble, director for the past six years; a competent cook and assistant, a full-time nurse, unit assistants, and directors in charge of various activities. The heart of the camp is a beautiful lodge, surrounded by various unit headquarters which include showers and other facilities.

The program this year includes more extensive activities in arts and crafts, more archery, outdoor cooking, special moon-light horseback riding, and opportunity to work on proficiency badges. Each camp session accommodates approximately 125 girls, in addition to the large directive personnel. Bus transportation will be from Riverside Little Scout House, states Mrs. Grubbs.

John Deere Sights Were Set High

In Designing New Farm Equipment

ALL during the war, the experimental departments in John Deere factories continued, without interruption, their development of new and improved machines.

Sights were set high . . . designers aimed at new and practical ways of making farm life easier, more profitable. And shortly, the farmers of America will see a parade of great equipment that will prove their aim was true . . . equipment matched to the 109-year-old John Deere tradition of quality manufacture—more value for the dollar invested.

Revolutionary is the new hydraulic power-control on John Deere tractors. A touch of the hand actuates a rock-shaft for integral equipment or a cylinder on drawn and power-driven machines—lifting, lowering, and maintaining them in any desired working position.

It truly introduces the lever-less age in implement design.

Outstanding are new one-man Quik-Tatch devices for cultivators, bedders, plows, and other integral equipment . . . time-savers that mean more hours in the field, less knuckle-scraping in the change-overs—one man does the trick.

There will be a new tractor for the small farm with outstanding new features that put it far ahead of the field. An important new machine is the John Deere Automatic Hay Baler, destined to cut baling costs to rock bottom. One man, instead of three or four, does the job. It's the only baler of its type that feeds the windrow directly into the baling chamber and ties with wire.

New and improved harvesting machines include a new self-propelled 12-foot combine and many new features on the famous John Deere No. 12-A. Lighter-weight, faster-working corn pickers will shorten and lighten the corn harvesting job. A new, really portable elevator not only handles corn, but baled hay as well. A simple new grain mover that will replace old-style small grain elevators.

Beet growers are enthusiastic about the new John Deere harvesters and loaders already in the field in small quantity. Potato growers will welcome the new double level-bed digger—a new, more practical two-row machine. The new cotton harvester is a major contribution toward cost-reduction in the growing of cotton.

New integral one- and two-bottom plows . . . a new two-bottom truss-frame plow . . . a new disk plow . . . a new land-leveller . . . a six-inch hammermill for small power . . . a low-cost, front-end manure loader . . . a plow-sole fertilizing attachment . . . new low-down, rubber-tired grain drills . . . an integral field cultivator—these and many other new and improved John Deere machines will be on their way to American farms.

Manpower and materials will be the only limiting factors in production during the coming months, so keep in touch with your John Deere dealer—be ready for the new day in farming with new equipment from the John Deere Full Line.
